MISS STONE MALTREATED.

Brigands Try to Force a Settlement.

May Kill Her Though Ransom Be Paid.

Consul-General Dickinson Has Reproached Bulgaria in Energetic Terms.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

SOFIA (Bulgaria) Nov. 10.—[By Atlantic Cable] Information has been received here from Dubnica that the band of brigands, led by captain Mihailo Milos, the American missionary, called about a fortnight ago at the village of Smetchevo, and subsequently proceeded to the monastery of Rila, but the movements of the troops compelled the brigands to flee toward the frontier, where they are now in hiding. It is also asserted that the brigands have recently been treating Miss Stone with more severity, in order to exercise pressure and to compel a more ready acceptance of their conditions.

Consul-General Dickinson is inflexible. He insists that the surrender of Miss Stone must precede or be simultaneous with the payment of the ransom. His attitude is justified by the determined action of some members of the band, particularly the captain, Yane Sandev, to kill Miss Stone and his compatriots soon as the ransom is received, owing to the fact that the captives have acquired information concerning the secret committee. Competent persons, however, express the opinion that the clemency of the brigands will overcome their fear of revelations, and all such approve the declaration of Dickinson.

Yesterday, he made energetic representations to the Bulgarian government against the Bulgarian government, reproaching the officials with the fact that notwithstanding their solemn promises to give him all assistance in their power, their action was embarrassing the negotiations; regarding a settlement, and placing in jeopardy the life of Miss Stone. He made a definite declaration that the Bulgarian government would be held responsible for the death of Miss Stone if she did not return in consequence of her ransom. The question now has been occupying much of the time of the convention. Intense feeling was shown against them, and the unanimous decision was that they should go.

CAPE COLONY TO TAKE LARGE SHARE IN CAMPAIGN.

Loyalty of Loyalists En Mass Likely to Be the Outcome—Joint Commission of Imperial and Colonial Military Sitting on the Question.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable] In a letter dated October 22, the Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"Lord Kitchener and Sir John Gordon Sprigg (the Cape Premier) have arranged a scheme for the expulsion of the invaders from Cape Colony. A joint commission of imperial and colonial military officials has been sitting here for some days past to draft a scheme."

"It is understood that this provides for the colony taking a large share in the future campaign, and contributing largely toward its cost. Apparently a levy of loyalists en masse is the idea involved."

TO END THE WAR."

MORE VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN."

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable] According to the Daily News, Maj.-Gen. Ian Hamilton, who sailed Saturday for South Africa to act as Lord Kitchener's chief of staff, takes a plan prepared in London for a more vigorous campaign, with a view of ending the war before the coronation festivities. The plan, which it is said will be submitted to the King's return from Constantinople, Friday, and carried to the Associated Press, together with an additional clause by which the Sultan pledges himself to consider as authorized in full right the foundations, excepting the religious and hospital establishments which France may desire to carry out, if the Porte is advised of her intentions and makes no objections within five months.

France has thus far received full satisfaction, and M. Delcasse, on the receipt of M. Bapst's dispatch this morning, telegraphed him to inform Tewfik Pasha that diplomatic relations had been restored, and that M. Bapst should consider himself as regularly charged with the affairs of the embassy.

Instructors were also sent to Admiral Caillard at Mitylene to retrain the marines and return to Greek waters, which is understood to mean the vicinity of the island of Syra. Admiral Caillard will remain in the Levant some time longer. M. Constante, the French Ambassador, will return to Constantinople very shortly.

The additional clause was conceded at the request of France in order to prevent future difficulties, such as the Turkish provincial officials have often done either on their own initiative or in consequence of instigation by the Porte.

The Times, which describes the result as a "brilliant victory for French diplomacy," says: "The great merit of the government was in being able to restrict its action. Very serious difficulties might have arisen had France departed from her reserve. The favorable disposition shown to our representations abroad has been due to the fact that the civilized world has had no objection to the anti-European movement in the Sultan's counsels. Frenchmen, Americans, Austrians, Italians and Britons have all been victimized by the Sultan and his counsellors."

HALMING THE OUTCOME.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—The morning papers, in their comments upon the termination of the Franco-Turkish conflict, follow many lines strictly. The supporters of the government hail the outcome as a great diplomatic, moral and material success. Other journals still reflect strongly, with reference to the final outcome, or assume that it is really a check, disguised under the more or less illusory concessions promised by the Sultan. Some papers argue that France is a great power backed down owing to the coolness with which the powers have received her explanations regarding the objects and aims of the naval expedition.

"We hope that compensation will be sufficient to restore forever the prestige of France in the East," says the Figaro. "Doubtless the very near neighbor will be glad if it is not a victory."

The Petit Parisien, which voices the views of the government, says: "It is for France a considerable diplomatic success. The rapidity and precision of the movement of the squadrons was a decided success. Our dignity in the Levant and our moral authority issue from the confidence increased in the present, and assured for the future."

GOOD RELATIONS RESTORED.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—It is semi-officially announced that the Sultan of Turkey, having acceded to all the claims of the French government, M. Delcasse, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has informed the Porte that France will be allowed him, but will not be allowed to have a fleet in order to force a foreign nation to respect us."

The Gaulois, while admitting that a success has been achieved, remarks:

"The recent actions of the government are the result of a great victory. They are such that even the Sultan thought there was no risk in treating the French like mere Armenians. The Minister of War is said to have advised him, but he would not have withdrawn from the Gendarmerie Valley."

The Petit Parisien, which voices the views of the government, says: "It is for France a considerable diplomatic success. The rapidity and precision of the movement of the squadrons was a decided success. Our dignity in the Levant and our moral authority issue from the confidence increased in the present, and assured for the future."

UNIVERSITY.

The residents of this section are jubilant over the fact that at last measures are being taken to protect them from the flood of water and oil that runs down the streets of the southwestern part of the city during the rainy season.

Some time ago the Citizens' Southwestern Association, after consulting the engineer, and at their request the City engineer prepared special maps showing the grades of the various streets and the crossings where culverts should be placed so that the water would be distributed as evenly as possible on the different streets, instead of two or three streets carrying all the surplus water, as in the past. Measures were taken to have the water carried to out-of-town plans as much as possible, and has already done some work in this direction.

During the present week work will be done on Vernon, and last week a large force of men were put to work on West Avenue, grading it in accordance with the plans proposed by the City engineer and endorsed by the league. Altogether the prospects are very bright for an excellent system of drainage for the University district.

During the past week Dean Randall has given several talks on football at a meeting of the students. In the sport is at high pitch among the students in all branches of the institution. The election of Tully C. Knowles to the position of manager has strengthened the football team, and it is felt that they will have much better than a fighting chance against Pomona in the inter-collegiate contest, which will be held in Pomona on Thanksgiving day.

There is an exciting difference in arrangement games now, and the team was organized so late that most of the local teams had their schedule already full. An effort will be made to secure a game for next Saturday with one of the smaller institutions to serve as a practice for the big contest later in the month.

One hundred college pennants have been ordered for use in the Pomona contest, and the indications are that the university will send the largest delegation that has ever represented U.S.C. in a contest held outside of the city.

Rev. M. H. Plumb at Centennial Methodist Church yesterday morning preached upon "Truth," and last night gave his second lecture on "The Christian Church." The mud and slush extended the welcome of that denomination to their co-worker, and A. Beck for the general community. Rev. IN FINE CONDITION.GOOD RETURNS FROM PRODUCTS
OF FIELDS AND ORCHARDS.

Large Yield of Walnuts—Celery Industry Booming—Large Acres of Beans—Olive Output Breaks Record—Irrigation Improvements.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 10.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The English walnut crop is becoming one of the most important in the valley. Last year the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association sent out thirty carloads of nuts, but the association then represented only about 25 per cent. of the acreage of nuts south of the Santa Ana River. This year the association controls 1450 acres of bearing walnut trees, the majority of which will reach about thirty carloads, which will be about forty carloads shipped outside the association, twenty of which will come from the vicinity of Capistrano. The price this year is 95 cents per pound for soft shells, and 9 cents per pound for hard shells, these prices being 3 cent less than prevailed last season. The nuts this year are a little larger, especially in the larger sizes, probably on account of the larger yield, but the quality is claimed to be superior, and the reason given for this is the fact that the growers are paying more attention to the care of the trees.

CELERY CROP.

The celery industry is booming. There is probably no better industry in all Southern California today than the large celery fields in the peat-lands, where this succulent vegetable is now to be seen at its best. Last season's shipments footed up a little over 1600 carloads, from a little less than 2000 acres. But considerable had been used last year, besides an early fall rain ruined nearly 400 acres in the peat-land. The acreage this year will be about that of last season, about 1800 acres, and the conditions of the crop at the present time were never better for a record-breaking yield. Prominent celery growers have placed this year, barring accidents, by frost or flood, at 3000 carloads. Present eastern quotations on California peat-land celery are from 40 to 50 cents per dozen, reckoning 2000 cars as the present season's output. (1900 dozen bunches to the car,) at 40 cents per dozen, represents a gross value of $140,000. The first stalk of celery was transplanted here only eight years ago, the industry having grown to its present immense proportions since 1895.

BEAN YIELD.

There were but few beans grown in this portion of the valley previous to last year. Several enterprising farmers on the San Joaquin ranch experimented with the product, and the results were so satisfactory that last spring about 3000 acres, all told, were planted to this product. The yield has been about 600 pounds to the acre. A portion of the crop, however, was injured considerably last week by the unexpected heavy rains.

DECIDUOUS FRUITS.

The deciduous fruit crop in this locality the past season was practically a failure, as compared with former seasons. The packs of the canneries aggregate about three-quarters of a million cans of peaches and pears, the pack in most parts being less than last year. The yield was between 1800 and 1200 pounds, and the market price of 3 to 4 cents per pound has been paid to the growers.

A suit has been filed in the Superior Court by Elizabeth Linton to recover damages from Warren Spotts, Lizzie Spotts and L. M. Davison & Co.

J. T. MAGAETH.

J. T. Magaeth was yesterday fined $10 by Justice William L. Williams for obstructing the work of the Salvation Army.

The Santa Ana Valley received another good soaking rain last night, almost half an inch falling.

FULLERTON.

The ranchers in the vicinity of Garfield Grove have progressed sufficiently with their irrigation proposition to place an order for a twenty-five-horsepower gasoline engine, and pumps are to be installed at an early date, so that the vine disease will be controlled by the first of the year. It is expected that the plant will raise about 125 inches of water and the cost of the plant will be in the neighborhood of $2000. The construction of the vineyard will soon be started so that the work may be completed and the water delivered on the land in time for the early spring cultivation.

MORE RAILROAD TALK.

The residents of Westminster are up in arms over the report that the San Lake Railroad, which has started to run a line from Los Alamitos in the direction of the peat-lands, is claimed that the contract made with the Clark and the Southern Pacific Company ends with the first few months and that the San Lake Railroad is desirous of touching the fertile peat-land country in time for the handling of next year's celery crop. From present information, the early part of this year's celery crop to eastern points will reach the enormous sum of $2000, which amount would go a considerable way in constructing a railroad from Los Angeles to Santa Ana via the peat-lands.

HAY AND GRAIN.

The crops of hay, wheat and barley are better last year than they have been for four years, although the yield per acre was not particularly large. A succession of dry years has worked a hardship upon the grain farmers in this valley, but the yield last year was better than any in the past three previous years, that the ranchers are greatly encouraged, and this season, the winter rains having already set in, a very large acreage will be sown in grain, probably about 15,000 acres. But little corn is grown here for the market.

VEGETABLES.

Many small farmers are turning their attention to the raising of vegetables this year was practically a failure in quantity, as well as in price, but potatoes were little short of a gold mine. The yield was large and the price, obtained for a greater portion of the crop, larger. Indication now are that the acreage this year will considerably exceed that of last season.

OLIVES.

This year, for the first time in the history of the industry in this country, the growers have been favored with a large yield. It is estimated that there are about 500 tons of olives in the territory contiguous to Santa Ana, Costa Mesa and Tustin, but the fruit is small on account of the unusual yield and the lack of proper care of the trees in many of the orchards, and consequently will not bring the high market price. Twenty-five thousand dollars will cover the value of this crop, which is fully $15,000 more than it has ever been before.

PEANUTS.

The crop of peanuts has been exceptionally good in this locality. This portion of the Santa Ana Valley produces "table-peanuts" which are known as "goobers" than all the rest of the State. The crop has just been harvested, and amounts to almost 15,000 sacks, forty pounds to the sack.

The yield was about the same as last year, but the market price of 3 to 4 cents per pound has been paid to the growers.

On the whole, conditions in this section of the Santa Ana Valley are better today than they have been for at least five years, and the outlook for the future is bright.

The Santa Ana Valley received another good soaking rain last night, almost half an inch falling.

A suit has been filed in the Superior Court by Elizabeth Linton to recover damages from Warren Spotts, Lizzie Spotts and L. M. Davison & Co.

J. T. Magaeth was yesterday fined $10 by Justice William L. Williams for obstructing the work of the Salvation Army.

FARMERS' CLUB MEETS.

FULLERTON, Nov. 10.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The monthly meeting of the Fullerton-Peppermint Farmers' Club was held at the home of C. C. Chapman yesterday afternoon, there being a large attendance.

The discussion of the vine disease was deferred until the next meeting in order to take up more urgent matters. Most of the afternoon was devoted to the question of stock floating and other water matters. A vote was to have been taken at this meeting to see how the members of the club stand on the question, but the vote of the water company was present, it went over until the next meeting.

Nearly every member of the club joined in the discussion, and with two or three exceptions all were opposed to floating fees in any way.

The construction of the vineyard will soon be started so that the work may be completed and the water delivered on the land in time for the early spring cultivation.

MORE RAILROAD TALK.

The residents of Westminster are up in arms over the report that the San Lake Railroad, which has started to run a line from Los Alamitos in the direction of the peat-lands, is claimed that the contract made with the Clark and the Southern Pacific Company ends with the first few months and that the San Lake Railroad is desirous of touching the fertile peat-land country in time for the handling of next year's celery crop. From present information, the early part of this year's celery crop to eastern points will reach the enormous sum of $2000, which amount would go a considerable way in constructing a railroad from Los Angeles to Santa Ana via the peat-lands.

MESSAGE CAST UPON
SANTA BARBARA BEACH.EITHER TELLS OF TRAGEDY OR IS RANK FAKE.

Frank Morgan Said to Have Perished at Sea—Burglars Ransack a Residence and Secure Booty—Passenger Agents to Be Made Welcome.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 10.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] What is either a message from the dead or the attempt of an alliterative poet to perpetrate a fake of a rank orna- tional? A fish dealer named Alvaro picked up a bottle of strange design where it had been cast up by the waves and tide. It was a piece of white paper on which appeared, this legend: "Frank Morgan of Marion, Indiana, lost at sea. Please notify Marion Leader and News." That was all and there was nothing to indicate from what vessel the bottle had been cast overboard, who Frank Morgan was or where he had lost. It is, of course, possible that the message may be genuine, but so many similar messages have been picked up on the beaches from time to time, many of which have been found to be fakes, the little attention is being paid to this one.

RESIDENCE ROBBED. The residence of R. A. Laster on Anapapa street, near Victoria, was entered by burglars and robbed some time on Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Laster were out for the evening, and on their return discovered the theft. At first only money was taken, but when the search was made, it was found that some jewelry had been taken. The burglars forced a window at the rear of the house, and made their way into the house through a hole in the floor, from which they had access to the whole house. Officers were at work on the case all day yesterday, but thus far, have failed to find any definite clue.

RIVERSIDE RESIDENCE
ENTERED BY A THIEF.

Death of S. A. Ames, Well-known Orange Grower and Business Man—Peris Indian Football Team Complains of Treatment Received at Pomona.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 10.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] A man who staggered between Moving Freight Trains Almost Killed Early Sunday Morning at a Crossing.

All Rogers, a laborer, while intoxicated had a narrow escape from death on the grade crossing of the Southern Pacific railroad at Alameda and First streets, early Sunday morning. He was considerably under the influence of alcohol.

Rogers attempted to cross the tracks ahead of two freight trains going in opposite directions. He had walked at a point between the two tracks when the trains reached the corner, and he was wailed on either side by moving cars. While staggering between the moving trains he struck a man and knocked him down.

A few minutes later he was found unconscious by the Chief of Police. Blood was flowing from his nose and abrasions on the side of his head. He had been prepared to go shopping and laid the pocketbook together with his hat and gloves, on a table. He stepped into an adjoining room and upon her return a few minutes later, the pocketbook was gone. The officers were informed, but found no trace of the thief.

NEW LODGE INSTALLED.

The members of the Indian School team and the Roversiders who accompanied them to Pomona yesterday, where they defeated the Pomona football team, say they were outrageously treated by both players and spectators. The Indians, at a time of great excitement, were shouting and insulting those they did not dare assault, the officials of the Indian school being the persons singled out for most of the abuse. C. E. Kelley of Pomona, one of the officials, was struck about the neck, and a free fight followed the game, when the Indians started to walk off the grounds with the ball they had won. It was a repetition of the action of the Pomona players at Pomona.

Fake Horse Auctions.

The action of certain horse traders in this city is causing considerable complaint among ranchers and animal dealers. It has long been the practice of these traders to hold auctions of live stock at which the ranchers could pay as much as they desired for horses, the latter being sold at a price considerably less than the price paid for the stock. Recently, however, some of the traders have caused many ranchers to come to this city only to find that their price was considerably less than the original. There is no competition. Last Friday no less than six ranchers paid $100 for a horse, and the day before that they could make no purchases except at the high prices for poor stock set by the horse traders.

BURGLARS OPERATING ALL AROUND TOWN.

EAST PICO-STREET MAN SHOOTS AT NERVOY INTRUDER.

Nothing of Value Stolen Because Bandits Are Frightened Away from Every Place Visited Before Their Seaking Work is Done.

Two burglaries and one attempt were reported in the police yesterday. At neither of the houses was there any thing of value taken. The result might, however, have been different had not all of the marauders been frightened away before finishing operations.

Dr. Thomas H. Matthews, who lives on Forty-second street, just east of Central avenue, believes that the burglar who attempted to enter his home at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, upon entering the house he found a window open, and two of the rooms gave evidence of having been searched.

A pair of trousers, a pair of gloves, a hat and several small articles were taken. The burglar was not seen on the floor, several other articles of clothing, some of them of much more value than those taken by the burglar.

The burglar had entered the house after breaking an unfastened window. He had evidently been frightened away, because a small amount of money in the room which he entered had not been taken.

At the home of H. M. Arnold, No. 1037 East Ninth street, a supposed burglar sacked the kitchen and a rear bedroom at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold were absent, his mother heard some one in a room adjoining that occupied by her. She believed it was a burglar, so she called the police, evidently frightening him away. The rear screen door had been forced, and entrance gained to the house through a pantry.

At 11:30, McWain fired two shots at a burglar fleeing from his back door about midnight Saturday. McWain was awakened and went to the rear room of his house, met a man who was coming in.

"What do you want here?" called McWain.

The fellow started to back through the door, and said, "I don't want much."

By this time Mrs. McWain had been awakened, and going to her husband's aid, heard him shouting for help. McWain started in pursuit of the visitor, who had run toward a clump of bushes in the back yard, and fired two shots in that direction. Darkness prevented his hitting his mark.

Next morning McWain found a new pair of black lace shoes in his yard under a rear window.

CROWD WANTED TREATS.

Man Who Refused to "Set 'em up" Roughly Handled Above a Saloon, So Claims.

F. McCall, section foreman for the Southern Pacific Railroad at Dodworth, was treated at the Receiving Hospital yesterday evening for severe contusions on the part of his head.

He said the injuries were sustained when beaten and thrown downstairs by a crowd of men when he refused to treat to drinks in a room above the saloon of Daniel Pitsel at No. 301 East First street.

McCall said he was stoned to death by a porter, and there charged 60 cents for one drink of whisky. Other men in the room asked him to treat, and when he refused he was set on by the porter of the place and several others, he relates.

Not satisfied with thumping him, the men, he says, finished the job by shooting him down on the floor. Then, realizing that he had severely injured McCall, a back was called and he was dispatched to the hospital. A deep gash just above his left eye and several others on his left arm were sewed up. He had several minor cuts and some serious bruises.

A week ago yesterday a man caught violating the Sunday-closing ordinance in the place complained of was arrested.

NEARLY HALF AN INCH.

Rain Yesterday Was General in This Part of the State—Weather Bureau Expects More.

The rainfall in this city yesterday amounted to .46 of an inch, according to the official gauge on the roof of the Wilson building, and at the time the regular 5 o'clock observation was taken indicated the local observer of the Weather Bureau was expecting more during the night.

The storm is not one of the kind which most frequently visit this State and section," said Forecast Official Franklin. "Most of our storms come down the coast, drenching the State as they pass, and then sweep inland, moving inland in body of the ocean, and simultaneously the entire State felt its effects. In the absence of Sunday reports of observations at other California stations, it is impossible to predict with any degree of certainty what the weather will be, or whether the rain has passed, but the local conditions point to a return of rain. It rained from San Diego far north of San Francisco and I think it probable that more rain is coming."

At 3 o'clock this morning there were no signs of rain. The barometer had risen a point, however, and the weather was clear and unusually cool.
